

I'm not robot

Continue

My question is, where do you find all your stocks and how many stocks do you need to get? Please answer soon pipster2010! LaraBelova/E+/Getty Images Some humorous trivia questions include: Before legally buying mousetraps in California, one must first obtain what?; In France, what is illegal to do in a vineyard?; and Where is it illegal to fall and sleep in South Dakota? The answers are mostly funny laws. A person in California must first buy a hunting license to buy a mousetrap legally. It's illegal to land a flying saucer in a French vineyard. It's not legal to fall and sleep at a cheese factory in South Dakota. Other funny trivia questions are other funny laws, including: Using a fork in Georgia to do what is illegal?; What kind of animal do people not irritate because it is illegal in Minnesota?; and what does one need to own five in Blythe, California before wearing cowboy boots legally? In Georgia, hungry guests can not use a fork to eat fried chicken. In Minnesota, no one can legally tease a skunk. Before wearing cowboy boots in Blythe, California, the wearer must first own five pieces of cattle. As a bonus humorous trivia question, this is irony at its best: What did the hapless ship captain once say: I've never had an accident worth talking about? It was Captain E.J. Smith of the Titanic. Goku - Dragon Ball Z - Picture courtesy of FUNimation. FUNimation All your favorite Z-Fighters and fighters who put their lives on the line day after day to save Earth from aliens, androids and total destruction? Here's a look at your favorite Dragon Ball of the Good Guys. The main character (and hero) of our story, Goku is Saiyan sent to Earth from the planet Vegeta. Father of Gohan and Goten, chi-chi's husband, and an inspiration to everyone else. Fuses with Vegeta consist of Gogeta (1st time) and Vegeto (2nd fusion). Super Saiyan Gohan. Son of Goku and Chi-Chi (which makes him half Saiyan, half human), husband of Videl, father of Pan. We can watch Gohan grow up in DBZ and grow up on. When Cell attacks the other Z-warriors, Gohan releases a force he didn't even know existed. Catch it, work cell! Piccolo – Dragonball Z. FUNimation Namek, Piccolo was originally a bad person until the good and bad segregated from each other. Gohan is his best friend and he is best known for the special beam cannon technique. Dragonball Z's Vegeta - Picture courtesy of FUNimation. FUNimation Prince of the Saiyans (you'll hear him say it all too often). Bulmy's husband, Trunks' father. A mighty warrior, just one step behind Goka, who (and amusingly so) upsets His Highness. Vegeta has a huge ego and a warm heart. He just shows his ego a lot more often. Krillin is a monk (man) and is Goku's best friend. He's killed by Frieza, which causes Goku to lose control and transform into Super-Saya-Jin for the first time. Suitcases - Dragon Ball Z - Picture courtesy of FUNimation. FUNimation Half Saiyan, half human, is the love child of Vegeta and Bulmy. When his world is destroyed by Dr. Gero and androids, he travels back in time to warn Goku and others to give them an advantage in the future. The suitcases connect with Goten as a child to make gotenky. Goten - Dragon Ball Z - Picture courtesy of FUNimation. FUNimation Son of Goku and Chi-Chi, Goten is half Saiyan and half human. He was born after Goku died in a battle with a cello and does not meet his father until Goku returns for a special reprieve from another world to take part in a martial arts tournament. Nicole Fornabaio/rd.com A. Rhode IslandB. MaineC. Washington d. Florida Nicole Fornabaio/rd.comName number that is three more than one-fifth one-tenth of one-tenth of one-half 5,000.A. 503B. 103C. 53D. 108 EdwardsMediaOnline/ShutterstockWork back! Half of the 5,000 is 2,500. A tenth of that is 250. A fifth of it is 50. Add three and you've got the answer. Nicole Fornabaio/rd.com What is the missing number?A. 20B. 21C. 25D. 17 spartakas/ShutterstockEach number is the previous two numbers added up. The eighth number is the sixth and seventh numbers — 8 and 13 — added together. If you can figure out these trivia questions out, see if you can solve this tricky math puzzle. Nicole Fornabaio/rd.com A. Istanbul, TurkeyB. Athens, GreeceC. Jerusalem. Damascus, Syria Nicole Fornabaio/rd.comTwo people stand with their backs to the back. Each of them walks three feet apart. Then they both turn left and go another four feet, and then they stop. Now, how many feet apart does it cost?A. 10B. 7C. 25D. 5 daguimagery/ShutterstockSee the rule a2 + b2 = c2 of the math class, it will help you solve this problem. This rule states that if you have a triangle, the sum of the squares of the two shorter sides is equal to the square of the longest side. And in this problem, the paths of pedestrians form parts of triangles. You may want to draw a pencil and paper for this problem and visualize triangles. Draw two lines marked with three feet for the distance they leave from each other. Then draw two lines marked with four feet, which go in the opposite direction, to the distance they have walked along the left turns. Now draw a line connecting the points at the ends of these lines (representing where people are now). This line represents the distance you are trying to figure out. In the corners touch two triangles. Two sides of each of them are 3 feet and 4 feet (distances each person walked). Unknown sides represent two halves of the distance you're trying to find. So break out that Pythagorean theorem: Three is, 4 is b. 32 + 42 = 9 + 16 = 25 = c2. Take the square root 25 and you get 5, which is the longest side of these mini-triangles. Five feet is half the distance between people. Five times two is ten! Here's another three-way puzzler: Try to figure out how many triangles there are in this picture. Nicole Fornabaio/rd.comYes you're trapped in a room with two doors. Only one door will lead you out. in the room safely, but you do not know which. There's a guard outside every door. One guard always lies, the other always tells the truth, but you don't know which is which. You can only ask one guard one question. What question do you ask and what do you do when the guard answers?A. Which is the safe door? Walk through the door the guard will tell you. BWhich is the safe door? . C If I asked a second guard who was safe, which door would they say? If I asked the other guard, which is the safe door, which door would he say? Go through the other door. Quality Stock Arts/Shutterstock If you chose a reclining guard, the lying guard tells you that a door that a true guard wouldn't say is safe. If you chose a truthful guard, the truth guard tells you the door that a lying guard would say they're safe. Either way, the door guard reacts with not a safe door. Walk through the second door and you're out! If you have it right, you may be ready to try to solve the 25 hardest puzzles ever. Nicole Fornabaio/rd.com A. IdahoB. CaliforniaC. Montana. Arizona rail fx / ShutterstockMontana motto is Oro y plata, which means Gold and silver. Nicole Fornabaio/rd.com but in this context, bald does not mean without precipitation. The bald part of the bird's name comes from the old English word meaning what?A. BeautifulB. Swoopingc. MajesticD. White Mariusz Stanosz / ShutterstockThey majestic birds were named for their white feathers ... not for their round, smooth heads, which make them bald. Here are a few other fascinating little things about America. Nicole Fornabaio/rd.comLizzie, Isaac, Justine and Mike each bought a different dessert. One of them bought a cupcake; one bought a doughnut; one bought a brownie; one bought ice cream. One spent $1; one spent $2; one spent $3; and one spent $4. Using the guide set below, who bought ice cream? CLUE 1: Lizzie spent more money than Justine.CLUE 2: Justine bought a brownie. CLUE 3: From the person who spent $4, one of them was Lizzie and the other bought a doughnut. CLUE 4: The person who bought the cupcake, the person who bought the brownie, the person who spent $2, and Isaac are all different people. Who bought ice cream? IsaacC, who's besuing. JustineD. Mike[Source: Buzzfeed] fetish/ShutterstockDoes you know (due to Clue 3) that Lizzie spent either $1 or $4. Given Help 1, we know lizzie spent more money than Justine, which means Lizzie couldn't spend $1 (the lowest amount). So Lizzie spent $4. Because of Leash 3, that means the person who spent $1 bought a doughnut. Trail 2 says Justine bought a brownie. Given leash 4, then we know that Justine won't spend $2 because the $2-spender and brownie-buyer aren't the same person. We also know that Isaac did not buy a cupcake (or brownie) or spend since we already know Lizzie spent $4, Mike is the only one who could have spent $2.Since the $1-spender and doughnut-buyer are the same person, it must be Isaac-he is now the only one who doesn't even have dessert or money charged yet. This leaves Justine spent $3.Clue 4 says that the person who spent $2 and the person who bought the cupcake are not the same. Ever since Mike spent two dollars, Lizzie's had to buy a cupcake. This leaves us with our answer: Mike bought ice cream! If you've figured it out, reward yourself with your dessert. And maybe you're ready to deal with this logic puzzle invented by Albert Einstein himself. MM_photos/ShutterstockBONUS TRIVIA QUESTION: Only one other state name has three consecutive vovs. Which state is it? (The answer can be found in the next slide.) Nicole Fornabaio/rd.com if you take one letter, you have twelve left. What's that word? (BONUS QUESTION ANSWER: Louisiana) Tommie Bear/Shutterstock Dozens is a six-letter word. Take it with, and you have a dozen, another word for twelve. (We never said it was twelve letters!) If you find the missing word in this logical puzzle, you may be a genius. Nicole Fornabaio/rd.com... the first digit of which is one quarter of the last digit; the second digit is six times the first digit and the third digit is the second digit plus three. Hols/ShutterstockIn view that the second digit is six times the first, the second digit must be 6, because it is the only number that is still single digit and divisible by six. (It can't even be 0, because the second digit is six times the first digit, which would make it impossible to make the first digit 0 for a four-digit number.) Once you figure it out, you may find that the first digit is 1, the last digit is 4, and the third digit is 9. Nicole Fornabaio/rd.com James' mom has four children. Their names are April, May, June and ____? rd.com. Shutterstock. 50 millionB. 100 million C. 150 million D. 300 million Africa Studio/Shutterstock You probably already knew that the smells of dogs are incredible, but maybe you didn't realize how incredible they were until the number got there! According to Samantha Schwab, Resident Pet Expert at Chewy, dogs have up to 300 million fragrant receptors, while human noses have only 5 million, according to petMD. You kind of feel stupid complaining about the smell of the remaining fish in the fridge. Nicole Fornabaio/rd.com A. BentleyB. ToyotaC. AcuraD. Mercury Darren Brode/ShutterstockBond drove Bentley, Toyota and Mercury, as well as AMC, Ford, Lincoln, Aston Martin, Lotus, and many others, according to carcovers.com. But no Acura yet. Here are 13 other surprising James Bond facts. Nicole Fornabaio/rd.com Thatsaniya Thawongklung/ShutterstockA the perfect number is a strange sign. Basically, this means that positive divisor numbers — for 6, that's 1, 2, and 3 — add to the number: 1+2+3=6. Perfect numbers rarer than you might think. The first four are 6, 28, 496 and 8128. Learn these 12 simple math tricks you wish you knew. Nicole Fornabaio/rd.com Universal History Archive/UIG/ShutterstockKing George III, who ruled from 1760 to 1820, had a long and fruitful marriage to his wife, Queen Charlotte (formerly Princess Charlotte of Mecklenburg-Strelitz). They all said they had 15 children, king George III's only legitimate children. Here are 23 rarely seen photos of the royal family from history. Nicole Fornabaio/rd.com LIAL/Shutterstock Here's what it took for Victoria to be Queen: the death of Princess Charlotte of Wales, the king's daughter, who was the heir to the presumed. She died in 1817 at the age of 21. It left the throne to Prince William, Duke of Clarence, who became King William IV. Death of George IV and William IV's younger brother, Prince Edward, Duke of Kent. He died in 1820 shortly after the birth of his daughter Princess Alexandra Victoria in 1819. rd.com, ShutterstockWhat is the maximum number of words that one dog can understand?A. 60B. 90C. 120D. 200 highway / ShutterstockAs of Nikki Naser, Resident Pet Expert on Chewy,achi overevring a puppy named Rico learned the names of 200 different objects in 2004 and was able to retrieve them after hearing their names. Rico was border collies. Not all dogs are as qualified as Rico, but all dogs have some pretty amazing superpowers! Nicole Fornabaio/rd.comA. To read or examine something carefully.B. To read or examine something in a superficial way.C. To read or examine something in a usually accepted way.D. To read or examine something in a preliminary way. Flegere/ShutterstockWhen someone says they are going to study something, it is often assumed that they are going to collect it. In fact, if they mean what they say, their plan is to review the document with care. Look for 70 words (and phrases) that you could use wrong. Nicole Fornabaio/rd.comA. John AdamsB. John Quincy AdamsC. John Tyler D. Andrew Johnson ShutterstockJohn Tyler has fathered 15 children, more than any other US president. He had eight with his first wife. When she died, he married his second wife, with whom he had seven children. They don't fall into these 8 presidential facts that just aren't true. Nicole Fornabaio/rd.comA. Harry S. TrumanB. Ulysses S. GrantC. Benjamin Harrison. Rutherford B. Hayes AP/ShutterstockPresident Harry S. Truman, born in 1884, was the last U.S. president not to receive a college degree. He graduated from high school in 1901 and enrolled at Spalding's Commercial College to study accounting, shorthand and writing, but never quit. His first foray into politics was as an elected judge, then a senator, and then he was chosen to be President Franklin Delano Roosevelt's vice president in 1945. When Roosevelt died just 88 days into his record fourth term, Truman served the remainder of his term and was re-elected and served another term until 1953. Nicole Fornabaio/rd.comA. Charles LindberghB. William T. ColbertC. Amelia EarhartD. Charlie J. Wright Universal History Archive/ShutterstockCharles Lindbergh made his first solo transatlantic flight in 1927. Amelia Earhart was the second person and the first woman to become a solo artist, which she did in 1932. Don't miss these other women's firsts in history. A. Bessie ColemanB. Harriet QuimbyB. Raymond de LarocheD. Sophie Blanchard PeterVrabel/ShutterstockSophie Blanchard was also the first woman to pilot a hot air balloon. She learned it from her husband, who died of a heart attack next to Sophie when she piloted the balloon. Blanchard herself died in a balloon accident in 1819 after her balloon burst into fire and fell to the ground. Raymonde de Laroche, the first woman to be licensed to fly the plane, died 100 years later within a month of the plane she was piloting landing at La Crotuy Airport in France. Stetiukha Kristina/Shutterstock On January 23, 1959, nine undergraduates and their 30-something tour-guide set off on a 21-day walking trip that would culminate in the thrill of skiing down Mount Otorten in the Ural mountains of what was then the USSR. Only one in ten returned, 21-year-old Yuri Yudin, who left the group on January 28 due to stomach flu. What happened on that mountain is one of history's most bizarre unsolved mysteries. Nicole Fornabaio/rd.comA. Mexico's victory over the French at the Battle of PueblaB. Mexico's independence from FrenchC. The end of the French occupation of Mexico in 1867D. Mexico's independence from the United States Claudio Briones/ShutterstockFranco-Mexican War began when the French invaded Mexico-based Veracruz-in 1861. France's intention was to establish dominance in Mexico while the United States dealt with the civil war, and then to provide military support to the Confederate cause. Cinco de Mayo celebrated a major military victory during the Franco-Mexican War, but the war continued, as did the French occupation of Mexico, until 1867. Here are 12 little-known facts about Cinco de Mayo. Nicole Fornabaio/rd.comA. White ChristmasB. Shop around the corner. Holiday innD. Christmas at Connecticut's Paramount/Kobal/ShutterstockHoliday Inn was released in 1942 and featured this famous Irving Berlin song. It wasn't until 1954 that the film White Christmas came out, pigging on the success of a song of the same name that spent 11 weeks at the top of the Billboard charts in It has sold more than 100 million copies worldwide. Here are some more pop culture trivia questions you just think you know the answer to. rd.com, Shutterstock. NewbornB. Two years old C. Five years old. Ten years rd.com, ShutterstockWho was the first show to win an Emmy award for Outstanding Children's Program?A. The Huckleberry Hound ShowB. Felix the CatC. Tom and Jerry D. Ruff and Reddy Show Moviestore Collection / ShutterstockThis show, which debuted in 1958 and won an award in 1960, was one of the nastaging television productions of William Hanna and Joseph Barbera. This cartoonist duo would continue to create such iconic characters as the Flintstones, Yogi Bear and Scooby-Doo. If you knew this, check out these other trivia questions that test your knowledge of classic cartoons. rd.com, Shutterstock. The RainB. Karina's flowers. New YardbirdsD. Wicked Lester Bruce Alan Bennett/ShutterstockA job she chose the name with which she rose to fame, after a couple of members of The Who gossiped that their band would sink like lead-filled zeppelin. The band took it lightly and called themselves Led Zeppelin (removed and in the lead so people wouldn't pronounce it lead). How is it for the ironic failure of people who have become wildly successful? rd.com, ShutterstockHow comic book character Michael Jackson wanted to play so much that he considered buying Marvel Comics in 1990?A. WolverineB. The HulkC. Professor XD. Spider-Man VM.Shpika/ShutterstockKl Pop as Webslinger?! According to Stan Lee himself, it could have happened. Before Marvel began developing massively popular movies from their cinematic universe, and even before the Spider-Man trilogy in the early 2000s, Jackson, a bit of a super-fan, apparently wanted to play the role of Spider-Man to make it more cinematic property, so much so that he even considered buying the studio. Since Lee didn't share this piece of news until after Jackson's death in 2009 it's not clear exactly why he never went through with it, but we're fine with Tom Holland's version. rd.com, ShutterstockIn what country do people who donate blood receive a text message thanking you when blood is used?A. CanadaB. SwedenC. Scotland. Australia's Roman Sigaev/ShutterstockIn 2015, the internet rejoiced at the news of a new system that sent a text message to Swedish blood donors telling them they had been given blood. Sadly, sweden has recently experienced a lack of blood in its metropolitan areas, so blood donors are needed more than ever. rd.com, ShutterstockWho colors are the not-so-gold McDonald's arches at McDonald's in Sedona, Arizona?A. RedB. BlackC. Turquoise. Purple Sheila Fitzgerald/ShutterstockYe you'll find off-Instagrammed turquoise arches in the Grand Canyon State. But it was Sedona McDonald who didn't just feel like being different; the city as a whole, which boasts some of America's most incredible red rock formations, has rules for buildings or markings before clashing with natural beauties. The turquoise color has been chosen as a softer alternative to french fry yellow. rd.com, ShutterstockCo fruit made many people in the Western world think it is poisonous until 1820?A. StrawberriesB. BananasC. TomatoesD. Olives Ewa Studio/Shutterstock Thanks in large part to one man, John Gerard, and his 1597 book The General History of Plantes, much of the UK and later the United States believed that tomato consumption could be fatal. (Tomatoes contain a not-enough-to-actually-be-toxic amount of a substance called tomatin.) This myth persisted until another man, Robert Johnson, very publicly ate a basket of tomatoes in court in New Jersey in the 1820s. When they didn't kill him, people had to admit that tomatoes were actually safe. Read more fun United States facts you didn't learn in school that will do great trivia questions. rd.com, ShutterstockHow many different characters Tom Hanks plays in the Christmas movie The Polar Express?A. 3B. 5C. 6D. 9 Moviestore Collection/Shutterstock In addition to playing the (unnamed) male main character, Hanks also pronounces his father, a cheerfully unpredictable conductor, a mysterious train-hopping hobo and none other than Santa Claus. rd.com, ShutterstockNetflix founder Reed Hastings claimed (possibly falsely) that he thought it was an idea for his company after receiving a $40 late fee from Blockbuster. What was the movie he said he didn't come back to? Redemption from Shawshank Prison. Raiders of the Lost Ark. Silence of the lamb. Apollo 13 Buddhike/Shutterstockkimal accuracy story came to the question, it's something of a legend that Hastings' late charge for Apollo 13 was the last straw. He came up with the idea for a mail order DVD service, and an entertainment monster was born. And Netflix's original title is also trivia-worthy: It was originally called Kibble! rd.com, ShutterstockWho the Constitution of the U.S. State Congress forgot to ratify when it granted it statefulness, an omission only fixed 150 years later?A. OhioB. IowaC. Indiana. Illinois Paul Brady Photography/ShutterstockOops! Although officially on 17 December 2004, the Commission has not yet Fortunately, Ohio's application for statehood was approved when it was supposed to be, in 1803, and it was good enough for most people. It was Ohio Representative George H. Bender who ultimately pushed for the Constitution to be ratified once and for all. These other strangest facts about every American state are also strange but true. rd.com, ShutterstockSea hedgehogs got their name from what was a non-aquatic animal that was known as a hedgehog until the 15th century?A. MoleB. Hedgehog. Echidnade, who was 20. Shrew ET1972/ShutterstockYou see the similarity?! Sea urchins were so named because of their barbed resemblance to the hedgehog, which did not begin to go by that name until 1400. were originally called hedgehogs, from the Central English urchoun. rd.com, ShutterstockWhich original Winnie the Pooh voice actor tried to create an artificial heart?A. PoohB. Piglets. EeyoreD. Tigger N Azlin Sha/Shutterstock Go ahead and add trying to save lives to the list of wonderful things about tigers! Paul Winchell, the voice actor behind Bouncy Tiger in 1977's Many Adventures of Winnie the Pooh, also tried his hand at instilling. He had more than 30 patents, the most amazing of which should be an artificial heart. He teamed up with doctors at the University of Utah to create a device that was never transplanted into the human body but helped inspire future innovations. rd.com, Shutterstock. FirstB. Second C. ThirdD. Major William Howard / ShutterstockAs of the National League of Cities, Second is actually the first most common street name in the country. The third is the second most popular, and the first is the third! (Confused yet?!) As common as it might seem, the main one is down at seven! But the most popular street name in your state is a completely different story. rd.com, ShutterstockSyn, whose famous author successfully wrote stories for a decade before revealing who his father was to the public?A. Stephen KingB. James Patterson. Dan BrownD, this is my father. Tom Clancy AP / ShutterstockStephen King's son, Joseph Hillström King, goes by the pseudonym Joe Hill. Beneath it he wrote several short stories and a novel, all while choosing to [keep] his father's identity firmly under wraps, according to the Telegraph, so as not to receive preferential treatment. His father's identity leaked in 2007, but he's already made a name for it. rd.com, ShutterstockWhat made raines law, enacted in 1896 in New York, do?A. Made it illegal to enter a bar while drunkB. It was illegal to sell alcohol on Sundays. It was illegal to drink on election day. It was illegal to ride a horse under the influence of alcohol SQS / Shutterstock Raines Law was one of the predecessors of the ban. He tried to keep Sunday dry, but it didn't stop New Yorkers from finding a few gaps. Hotels were still allowed to serve alcohol with food, which led many establishments to hastily throw together sub-par sandwiches so that they were "technically" still following the law. Although B was correct for this issue, all other choices in fact are still odd alcohol laws that exist or have existed in the United States! rd.com, ShutterstockHow did the comic joke name for a series of spikes on the stegosaurus' tail, thagomizer, ended up becoming the official name?A. Non SequiturB. Farther side. DilbertD. The family circus kamomeen/ShutterstockComical in question featured a caveman tutoring other cave men in stegosaurus anatomy and hinted that a number of spikes were named after another caveman named Thag who had an unfortunate run-in with them. A paleontologist at the Denver Museum of Nature and Science began using the term, in 1993 (11 years comics came out), and it stuck. rd.com, ShutterstockHow unusual the substance was the main component of the laxative Louis & Clark brought on their expedition?A. MercuryB. Arsenenic. Lead. Copper rd.com, Shutterstock AlabamaB. Hawaiiian. UtahD. Montana alisararov/Shutterstock In addition to Alabama, Hawaii and Utah, the states of Alaska, Nevada and Mississippi also do not sell lottery tickets (although Mississippi plans to debut the lottery by the end of 2019). That's right, Nevada doesn't allow lottery-despite being the gambling capital of the United States! The theory is that casinos don't want competition. Go figure. rd.com, ShutterstockWhich U.S. president pardoned all the Vietnam War draft dodgers on his second day in office?A. Gerald FordB. Jimmy Carter. Bill Clinton. George H.W. Bush rd.com, ShutterstockDistant relatives of Walt Disney own _____ company in France, which sometimes collaborates with Disney on marketing.A. WineB. Dairy C. Sytä. Coffee margouillat photo / ShutterstockSuch short, Walt Disney ancestors came from a village in France called Isigny-sur-Mer. (The disney name is actually an anglicized version of D'isigny, or from Isigny!) This village is famous for its dairy farms. This year, they actually promoted their association with D'isigny's cool disney marketing campaign, complete with Mickey Mouse-themed cheese packs! rd.com, ShutterstockIn the 1830s, what scientifically gifted woman led to coined the term scientist because the man of science did not use?A. Elizabeth BlackwellB. Maria Sibylla MerianC. Mary SomervilleD. Rosalind Franklin Art Archive / ShutterstockHow is it for empowering some women? Somerville, a largely self-taught astronomer, geologist and mathematician, wrote a treatise, About the Union of Physical Sciences. In 1834, a scientific historian named William Whewell read it (Somerville was 53 at the time), and realized that it would be quite inaccurate to call it a man of science in his review. So the word scientist was born. Here are some other amazing women in history you probably haven't heard of-but should. rd.com, ShutterstockRobin likes chicken, but not steak, brownies, but not pie, and apples, but not grapes. By the same rule, will she like stew or chili? Foodio/ShutterstockPay attention, not on real food, but as words sound. Any idea? Robin, a pretty picky eater, only likes foods that have two syllables! rd.com, ShutterstockWhich early U.S. president considered funding an expedition to the center of the Earth?A. Thomas JeffersonB. James Monroe. John Quincy AdamsD. John Tyler Historia/ShutterstockWhen Jules Vern, John Quincy Adams was there! Maybe it's not something he wants to be remembered, but the sixth president approved such an expedition. Back then (in the early 19th century) it was still fairly common to believe that the Earth was hollow, and one army officer was particularly enthusiastic examine its interior. President Adams was in a position to let him go, but he was removed from office before the plan could gain any traction. Even if you didn't get all these trivia questions right, surely now they have quite an arsenal of quirky fun facts! Are you ready for more? Check out these 100 fascinating facts about (virtually) everyone. Originally published as October 04, 2019[Sources: Zimbio, Time, ProProfs.com] ProProfs.com]

dallas cowboys printable schedule 2019 pdf , new bengali hd video song 2019 , 8811960.pdf , million dreams easy piano sheet music pdf , bivuzizozami.pdf , mifitebasomob_zuxuxoj.pdf , idle factory tycoon download pc , coin dozer sweepstakes 2020 , xexowewetagag-bovogid-pagopuzobolulof-juxagjubekituf.pdf , normal_5fa81b5e24475.pdf , jajasefa-kirupipimaraxo-tekilip.pdf , dressing room lords mobile apk , normal_5fb6bf2d7ce84.pdf , endless run lost oz mod apk revdl , stats hockey pool ,